Sir,

I have the honor to bring to the kind notice of the Government the hard lot of a very useful class of public servants - the vaccinators serving in the malnad and semi-malnad tracts. These men are as a rule, required to be constantly on the move, their itineration extending to villages remote from public roads. They work under the peculiar conditions familiarly associated with the term ' malnad ' and for which special provision exists in the Mysore Service Regulations in the shape of enhanced batta and rates of travelling allowance. While police constables, menials belonging to the various District Establishments and others draw special allowances for working in unhealthy areas, the vaccinators are left alone to plod on with their duties without any relieving feature connected with the more arduous work they are to do in the malnad than in the maidan places. The hardship to which these men are put to owing to the combined effects of illness, dearth of provisions, difficulty of travelling etc is very considerable It is but fair, therefore, that they should be given a daily batta or fixed malnad allowance as a set off against the depressing conditions under which they are called on

Sir,

In reply to your docket No. 1365 Sany. 20-11-2 dated the 14th August 1911, I have the honor to state that the practice of giving travelling allowance to vaccinators, though they are superior servants has not been in vogue. If, nevertheless, Government are pleased to sanction allowance to vaccinators as per rates admissible under the Mysore Service Regulations for itineration performed within their areas, in lieu of the permanent allowance recommended in this office letter No. 280 dated the 13th July 1911, I am in favor of the proposal. I may add that these vaccinators have to be constantly on the move in their taluks and their poor pay does not provide them with the means of maintaining themselves while on tour.

2. The accomapnying statement shows the estimated cost per annum on account of the malnad and semi-malnad allowance originally recommended.
